

DOCUMENT NAME: ARE OUR CHILDREN'S LIVES BEING PUT AT RISK? and IS THE WELSH ASSEMBLY GOVERNMENT PARTY TO THAT RISK?

DOCUMENT SUMMARY: The document contains evidence of subversive educational material funded by the Welsh Government taught on courses open to the public that are also funded by the Welsh Government. The course instructs play instructors and child care workers to place children in danger during play situations, this is based upon a misrepresented scientific research paper and testimonies from scientific professionals with links to the paper's author are included within the document. The document was submitted to the CYPE committee who failed to follow protocol and discuss the paper in public or in a private closed documented session.

ORIGINAL INFORMATION SUBMITTED TO COUNCILLOR SIMON KNOYLE ON 11 July 2019 with the request that he does not contact Welsh Government but keep this paper in house because his responsibilities in the first instance is with the children of Glynneath and Neath-Port Talbot. (see email copy).

DOCUMENT SUBMITTED TO: Councillor Simon Knogle on 2/2/2020

PROOF OF DELIVERY: Email response from Cllr Knogle on 9/3/2020

NPTC ANTICIPATED RESPONSE: That the Neath-Port Talbot Council question the Welsh Government on the published 'play curriculum' that encourages workers within the play industry to place Welsh children, including those living in Neath-Port Talbot in life threatening danger. That the Neath-Port Talbot Council advocate for the children of Neath-Port Talbot and not blindly follow Welsh Government instructions without questioning and establishing the reasoning behind subversive educational material. We would expect the Neath-Port Talbot Council to take responsibility for checking this information to safeguard the lives of the children of Neath-Port Talbot.

ACTUAL RESPONSE: Councillor Knogle failed to provide any information after our initial meeting in July 2019. There is no evidence that Councillor Knogle passed on this information to the relevant department at NPTC. I eventually received a response from Cllr Knogle in March 2020 which suggested that the council would not encourage 'deep play' as identified in the paper but they would follow Welsh Government instructions with regards to their play policies.

Councillor Knogle also provided evidence contained within NPTC literature in an email from the NPTC play team Karen Jones & Christopher D Mills that they (NPTC play team) were collecting information on the location of every children's play facility both supervised and unsupervised in Neath-Port Talbot which they were going to potentially supply to a secretive, subversive, unregulated charity with links to a convicted paedophile. They were going to do this, even though they had received a paper identifying that educational material being taught to playworkers by the same charity encouraged playworkers to place children in life threatening danger as an essential part of the play curriculum.

NOTES: The instruction I received on a Welsh Government funded play education course was clearly abusive to children and included videos of children chasing each other with burning objects, children fighting with and over who was to use a hammer and other questionable play actions. The literature provided was equally lacking in care for children, it used methods of deception to provide reasons why 'risky' play should be offered and provided an example of further reading, the publication containing 'deep play' which clearly breached the United Nations Children's Charter to which the Welsh Government are signatories. This was the basic level course. I live in Neath-Port Talbot and I am considering setting up my own play facility within Neath-Port Talbot. Technically I could through the play education process legally kill a child by offering them a form of 'deep play' that was a touch beyond their capabilities. I have provided NPTC evidence of this and they have failed to undertake due diligence in relation to the information which they have been supplied. The information taught on a playworker course is clearly morally and legally wrong and organisations that suggest such illogical activities should be questioned to find out the real purpose of their instructional educational material. The publication containing a play work curriculum that includes 'deep play' can still be bought from a Welsh Government funded organisation today.

The Welsh Government are funding and supporting child abuse and I will not pay organisations such as the Neath-Port Talbot Council and Glynneath Town Council that clearly support this abuse.

DOCUMENT SUBMITTED TO: Glynneath Town Council on 28/2/2021 by email with a request to discuss the document in public.

ACTUAL RESPONSE: The Glynneath Town Council discussed the paper but took it into closed session quoting the reason for this as.....

"a particular policy which is of... has been deemed of a confidential nature by the state so its not a policy we can publish" - YouTube link - <https://youtu.be/h8DfW92IYsQ> . This information was provided by the clerk when prompted by Councillor Knoyle.

It would seem here that the Glynneath Town Council are working with the Welsh Government to hide subversive educational material from the public of Glynneath. if we refer to the initial correspondence with Cllr Knoyle.

"... your responsibility in this instance is to the children of Glynneath and Neath-Port Talbot and not the Welsh Assembly Government"
